BECKHAM SPENT EIGHT MILLION DOLLARS EXTRA

State Auditor James Quotes Records as to Last Administration.

Borrowed Money From Sinking Fund and Schools.

Frankfort, Ky., July 28. (Special.)—Auditor Frank P. James took a fall out of Governor Beckham and the Democratic press of the state today when he gave out a hot statement which came out in the Kentucky Republican, his newspaper. He says that Beckham was extravagant and quotes the figures to show it. The statement follows:

The Democratic papers of this state, led by the Kentucky State Journal, have had a great deal to say of late with regard to the "mismanagement," "extravagance" and "all around incompetency" of the present administration. Some of this has been printed in ignorance, some inspired by prejudice and some published out of pure enmity. In justice to the State Journal we desire to say that generally speaking it has been fairer than the country press. However, it has fallen into many errors. In its edition of June 12th, it begins a two column editorial with the following statement:

"Auditor James is a fair man and we do not believe that he would knowingly, even for a partisan purpose, misstate facts or figures. His recent public statement, while correct in some particulars, is misleading in others."

Then follows some so-called facts and figures which leads us to remark that we are loath to believe that the editor of the State Journal would knowingly, even for partisan purposes, misstate facts or figures, but his editorial while correct in some particulars, is misleading as to others. For instance, he intimates that each session of the legislature during his administration of eight years appropriated quite as much money as did the session of 1908. Now here are the facts:

Session of 1909 appropriated $294,500; of 1908, of which was merely set aside for prosecuting the Hoebel assassins.)

Session of 1902 appropriated $324,639.50; session of 1904 appropriated $244,000.

Leaving out the state capital appropriation session of 1906 appropriated $252,400, making a total of $1,045,539.

If we add to this the $1,000,000 appropriated in 1904 for the purpose of building the state capital, it will make a little over $2,000,000 appropriated in eight years of Governor Beckham's administration, and if we leave the state capital appropriation out of both of the amounts appropriated the appropriations of 1908 almost equal the amount of the total for the eight preceding years.

Further along in the editorial he says it cannot be denied that the Democratic administration came into power with a bankrupt treasury, and with a heavy debt on the state. We say that it can be denied, and as a denial we quote from the auditor's report of 1899 as follows:

The Report for 1899.
"Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 1, 1900.
"To the General Assembly of the"

The train from Paducah to Cairo did not reach Cairo until midnight, and the fast train from the south were delayed as it was necessary to clear off the freight cars before the bridge could be used. The train was a freight of the Mobile and Ohio railroad.

HIGHWAY MAIDEN.

Chicago, July 28.—Seigismund Klobler, 35 years old, reported to the police he was held up and robbed at the point of a revolver by a pretty girl at 10 Broad street in daylight. He said he had money. The girl took his diamond stud and $60 and walked away, threatening to shoot if he followed.

JEFF POSTS FORFEIT AND A SIDE BET

New York, July 28.—Jim Jeffries, still claiming the heavyweight world championship, this afternoon posted with Bob Edgen, sporting editor of the World, five $1,000 bills, his portion of the forfeit to bind the fight with Jack Johnson. Jeff announced the conditions of the fight. Johnson must meet or leave no fight. "I defend the world's title," he said, "I fight before the club offering the largest purse for 20 to 100 rounds. When the articles are signed each will have to post $10,000, to be a side bet, winner to take all. The stakeholder will keep the bet, preferably John P. Clark, of San Francisco. Sam Berger, my partner, is to remain in America while I am away to receive bids of clubs." He says he is in fine condition. He will sail August 5 for Caribbea for three weeks. His confidence is proved by his side bet demand.

LITTLE JOHN KREUTZER IN SERIOUS CONDITION.

Little John Kreutzer is in a serious condition today at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kreutzer, 418 Jackson street. The child was seized with malarial fever, which aggravated an old injury to his head. The physicians have not given up hope for the lad's recovery, but his condition was unimproved.

Saloon Men Indicted.

Nashville, Tenn., July 28.—As a result of a number of people being summoned before the grand jury to make good on their assertions that the demon rum was being sold in Nashville, that body returned ten indictments against one former saloon keeper, six against another and several single indictments against others. None of them has been arrested as yet, and no names have been made public.

Mrs. Della Young.

Mrs. Della Young, wife of Mr. G. E. Young, who resides near Maxon Mills, died at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon of stomach trouble after a week's illness. She was 40 years old and a sister of Mrs. H. D. of Wickliffe. The funeral was held at 10 o'clock this morning at the Palestine church, the Rev. Mr. H. H. H. pastor, officiating. Burial was in the church cemetery.

She Carried Foster Greer.

Lacey Polk, colored, reaped vengeance on Foster Greer, also colored, last night by stabbing him in the left side with a small pocket knife. The wounds were dressed by Dr. C. H. Brothers and are not dangerous. The woman was arrested on a charge of malicious cutting with intent to kill, but claims she carried in self-defense. Greer was able to be in police court this morning but the case was continued over until this afternoon.

Humor of Mexican Invasion.

San Antonio, July 28.—Fencing badly hurt because of the revolutionary movements, scores of Mexicans are flocking across the border of the United States. Several hundred are here prowling the parks. Arrests for vagrancy are frequent and secret service agents examine them closely. There are rumors that revolutionary leaders are organizing an army to invade Mexico in the psychological moment.

CITY'S NEW BLOCK MAP WILL NOT BE READY NEXT YEAR

Engineer Washington Compelled to Relinquish His Work on it.

Real Estate Assessment Will be Made.

ASSESSOR STARTS IN FALL.

Interrupted constantly by numerous orders from the city and without the help of an assistant, City Engineer L. A. Washington has little hope of completing the block map for city property assessment before another year's time.

A part of the map has been made but it is a tedious undertaking and requires careful work. The small portion that has been completed may be used in the assessment for the coming year, but City Assessor J. W. Orr will not have the opportunity of working with the finished map until the fall of 1910, when the city engineer expects to have the work done. The present system is inadequate and in many instances property is not listed at half of its real value. The board of supervisors therefore is hindered and not able to obtain the real figures. With the use of the block map this trouble will be eliminated and an equitable assessment placed on all property in the city. This will increase the city's revenue to some extent and Mayor Smith and the general council are awaiting the map's completion with anxiety. Many complaints from property owners at over-assessment are received almost regularly by the general council and referred to the board of supervisors for investigation. This is another trouble that the block map will wipe away.

City Assessor Orr will begin work on the assessment for 1910 in about three weeks, while the board will get together the first of September. The work will require several months.

Plans for City Hall.
Architect A. L. Lassiter has recovered from his illness and has begun on the city hall plans again. He expects to have the final plans for the city hall ready by next Tuesday night and the preliminary plans ready for the new fire station. The improvement committee will meet and go over the plans and if satisfactory adopt them. By Mr. Lassiter's illness the work will be delayed a few days.

Parker Gets New Hearing.
On motion of Oscar Kahn, attorney for Bob Parker, Police Judge D. A. Cross set aside the fine of $50 against Parker for presenting and flourishing a pistol. Mr. Kahn was employed after the fine had been assessed, and says he will have more witnesses. The commonwealth will also have more. The case has been set for trial tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. Parker is accused of drawing his pistol on Clarence Dickerson, who had trouble with Lita Parker, his brother.

Crisis in Turkey.
Constantinople, July 28.—A military crisis in Turkey followed the decision of the powers in regard to Trete. The foreign minister is unpopular because the powers decided against Turkey. He resigned and crowds are marching the streets shouting for war.

Persia's Deficit.
Teheran, July 28.—The new government of Persia, despairing of other means of raising money, is arranging to have overdrafts cashed at the banks. It will use it to pay the deposited shah to leave Persia without further trouble. He is still a refugee in the Russian legation and it is believed will go to Russia. The date is set for August 2.

Bald Chinese Lodge.
Singapore, July 28.—Fifteen were killed and many injured in a raid of a Chinese secret society at Kiamimpr temple. It was crowded and after a half-hour of fighting the police were successful in arresting thirty leaders.

Murder in Court Room.
Little Rock, Ark., July 28.—W. Y. Ellis of Pine Bluff shot and killed N. P. Willis, of Indianapolis, Ind., in the Pulaski county chancery courtroom yesterday afternoon. The court had just made an order revealing a former order of several courts relative to the custody of the eight-year-old daughter of Willis and his former wife, who is now Mrs. W. Y. Ellis. An inquest over the body of N. P. Willis was held last night and the jury reported that the killing was unjustifiable and recommended that Ellis be held for murder.

Laid It Before Patterson.
Nashville, Tenn., July 28.—F. A. Burgess, assistant grand chief of the American Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, accompanied by two members of the local brotherhood, called upon Gov. Patterson and laid their differences with the Tennessee Central management before him. The governor replied to them that he had given the matter no thought, but that he would give it careful attention. A strike now seems to be more than probable, involving about 60 engineers. The trouble is over a proposed fuel examination of all engineers. The brotherhood objects very seriously to this and claims that it is not at all necessary.

THE WEATHER.

Partly cloudy with showers tonight or Thursday. Highest temperature yesterday, 81; lowest today, 68. Rain fall 1.90.

President Taft Will Insist That Gloves and Lumber be Reduced--Tobacco Tax is Made Heavier Senator Stone, of Missouri, Leaves For Baltimore to Answer to Charge of Assault on Pullman Waiter.

Washington, July 28.—It is expected the conference committee on the tariff bill certainly will complete its work this afternoon. The Republican members finished their report this morning. Democrats are now holding their final consideration. Chairman Payne is preparing his report to submit it today or Friday.

Must Cut Duties.

Washington, July 28.—Unless the conferees reduce the rates of lumber and gloves President Taft will not sanction the report. The tax on tobacco, cigarettes and other smoking commodities is greatly increased. It is estimated that $10,000,000 more revenue will be raised annually.

Senator Stone is Angry.

Senator Stone of Missouri, is hunting heavy legal talent to defend him in police court at Baltimore on the charge of slapping the face of a negro waiter, Lawrence J. Brown, on a Pullman car. It is likely Senators Raynor and Bailey will be his chief counsel. The trouble arose over the negro's attention. A special officer took the senator from the car seat at Baltimore. He was arrested and rode in an auto patrol wagon. He tried to tell the policeman senators are not to be arrested for assault. The policeman did not understand. The senator promises a big fuss and says it is an outrage.

Determined to face the music, Senator Stone, who was arrested at Baltimore last night for striking a negro waiter in a Pullman, left here for Baltimore this morning. He declined the services of Senators Raynor and Smith, of Maryland. He will plead his own case. He says he has many arguments.

Many Will Accompany Taft.

Washington, July 28.—Congressman Harthel is advised that every senator and representative will be invited to accompany President Taft on the trip from St. Louis to New Orleans on the Mississippi. He expects more than a hundred to accept.

Royes Resigns.

Washington, July 28.—The resignation of President Royes of Columbia, was formally accepted. News was received from Paxton Hibben, secretary at the legation at Bogota.

Charge of False Pretences.

Charles E. Hayden was brought to Paducah last night by Deputy Sheriff John T. Galloway, from Mayfield, where he was arrested on the charge of obtaining money by false pretences. He was placed in the county jail, and his preliminary trial will be held before Magistrate C. W. Emery. Hayden is charged with representing himself as an agent for the Commonwealth Insurance company.

Few Changes Will be Made in School Books

Practically no changes will be made in the text books now in use in the city schools for the next school session. The committee on teachers and course study will meet with Superintendent J. A. Carnagey early next month, and decide permanently on the books so that the bookdealers may order their supplies for the coming school year. Radical changes in the text books always means a heavy expense to the parents of school children, and every effort will be made to avoid it.

The state school board has made two slight changes in the state text books and it will effect the city schools. The state board requires that the writing exercise books be purchased from the Transylvania Book company, of Lexington. As copy books are necessary each year and the price is only 5 cents the change does not mean anything financially. New physiologies will be used, as the state board has required the schools to use Willis' physiology. Only new pupils are required to purchase it, and the old text book may be used or it may be exchanged at the book store at a special price.

The members of the committee are discussing a change of the mathematics text book. Superintendent Carnagey said the members realize the expense and any steps taken would be towards economy. Last year the use of two dictionaries was discontinued and the expense of purchasing a second book was saved.

The school board will hold its regular monthly meeting next Tuesday. The annual report of Superintendent Carnagey has been completed his report and besides his summary of the school year for 1909 he will suggest several improvements for the schools.

SAMPLE OF NEW DIAL FOR CITY CLOCKS RECEIVED

A sample of the new dial for the clock in the city hall tower was received yesterday afternoon from the E. Howard Clock company, of Boston, by J. J. Bleich, tender of the city's clocks. The proposed dials are to be six feet in diameter while the dials of the present clock are less than five feet. The public improvement and finance committee will take up the matter of repairing the clock and the one on the First Baptist church at the meeting next Tuesday night. The cost of the repairs for both clocks will go above $1,000.

GLIDDENITES MAY COME TO PADUCAH THEIR NEXT RUN

Movement on Foot to Induce Association to Come South in 1910.

Good Roads in Western Kentucky Essential.

PLAN WOULD BECOME POPULAR.

Paducah automobilists are going out after the Glidden tour, that classic automobile event of every summer, for next year, and hope to have the 1910 route take in West Kentucky. Preparatory to it, however, they are very much interested in the good roads movement for all of west Kentucky in general, and McCracken county in particular. The Glidden tour is an automobile test run of over 2,500 miles. It is conducted by the Automobile Association of America and always interest about 75 entries of the best automobiles in the country, and its trips are eagerly sought by every community each year. This time the run is from Detroit to Denver, thence back to Kansas City, and as the routes are different each year, and the south has never been toured yet, the local auto enthusiasts hope to get Paducah on the route next year.

They realize, however, they must have fairly good roads to offer as an inducement, hence the west Kentucky good roads movement. They intend to co-operate with the Commercial club to secure the good roads convention on August 19 as they appreciate the value of such a meeting. Then they would follow up the work in each county.

To improve the roads of this county, the club appealed to Judge Lightfoot who has already done much for road improvement, this week, and he told them that if every day some automobilist would come and take him out and show him the bad places he would be glad to have them fixed, so every day for a few days the judges will have a joy ride through the county.

Graves county has at last awakened to the necessity of good roads, and holds out the promise of very fair highways next year. Up to only a few weeks ago there were no automobiles in Mayfield because there were no good roads on which to enjoy them, but the Democratic nominees for county judge, who will go in office next January, was elected on a good roads platform, and assurances are now given that the road will be improved. In the last few weeks there have been ten automobiles sold in Mayfield, as a result, and the prospects are there will be twice as many cars before the season is over.

The advent of automobiles always mean a good road agitation. This fact is proven over and over again after every trip the two automobiles. The Sun has sent over west Kentucky the past two months advertising its contest. In such communities as Livingston county, where the roads are a joke, to express it charitably, the autos have created the greatest kind of interest and started agitations for roads that will permit their daily use. In every county it has been the same experience, the people are now eager for good roads, and of course, all of them expect to own automobiles.

Appreciating these facts the suggestion has been made to the local automobilists to promote a run over west Kentucky some time this fall, entries to be made from every town in west Kentucky that owns automobiles. Already several prizes have been promised for the event and in all probability it will be pulled off. Such a contest would arouse a great deal of interest in west Kentucky and be a true boon for good roads, and pave the way for the Glidden tour.

WRIGHT'S FINAL.

Washington, July 28.—Capt. Wright's final government test was placed this morning. Lieutenant Foltz will accompany him. They must make 30 miles an hour for the $25,000 prize with a $10,000 bonus if 41. President Taft missed his dinner last night, but said it was worth it. Wright succeeded in the time trial yesterday in one hour and twelve minutes.

Central C. & I. Co.

More competition for the river coal business may be had as the Central Coal and Iron company may establish a yard in Mechanicsburg on the river. Yesterday an official of the company was in the city looking over the ground, and it is said found it favorable. The company has been in Paducah for several years, but has only handled retail trade.

Thaw Takes Stand

White Plains, July 28.—Nervous and realizing his fate depends on his own conduct in testifying, Harry Thaw took the stand this morning to try to prove to Judge Mills he is sane. Morshouser waived direct examination and did not risk a cross-examination by Jerome when he was tried. Jerome asked questions, concerning the former trials. Thaw often was uneasy and contradicted himself.

Jerome is losing ground. Thaw is gaining confidence and winning many points. He talked to Judge Mills and said he never has been insane medically, only legally. Mrs. Thaw is witnessing the proceedings. She says she has strong divorce grounds.

FIRST CHRISTIAN WILL CALL NEW PASTOR IN FALL.

The matter of securing a pastor for the First Christian church is now in the hands of a committee from the church board. The secretary, Mr. H. C. The congregation hopes to be able to call a pastor before fall to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of the Rev. S. B. Moore, who will return next week to settle up his affairs here.

JOINT INVITATION

EXTENDED TO PRESIDENT TAFT TO VISIT CALRO ON THUR.

Mayor, Commercial Club and Board of Trade Unite in Urging Him to Stop.

Calro, Ill., July 28.—Meetings were held last night by the Calro Commercial club and the Calro board of trade to consider the proposition to extend an invitation to President Taft to visit Calro on the occasion of his trip down the Mississippi. The mayor attended both meetings and it was agreed that formal letters of invitation from both bodies be enclosed with that from the mayor. It was believed this would be more effective than to send the letters separately.

JOINTS RAIDED

HANG-OUT FOR THIEVES AND HARLOTS BROKEN UP.

Police Put Negro Couples in Jail on Charges of Immorality

With the determination of breaking up the colored bawdy houses on Kentucky avenue Chief James Collins of the police department left orders with Lieutenant Henry Bailey last night and after midnight a wholesale raid was made on several joints, resulting in the arrest of thirteen who were charged with immorality. Three men and three women pleaded guilty to the charges in police court this morning and were assessed a fine of $20 and no costs each by Judge Judge Cross. All three pairs went to jail to serve out the fines. There are Charles Loftin, Henry Russell, Nora Wilson, Lizzie Baker, Lon Tucker and Nannie Sides.

Seven pleaded not guilty and were sent back to jail and their trial set for this afternoon at 2 o'clock. The rest are Cora Easley, Will Albritton, Rachael Wilson, Mary Harris, Loula Hughes, Pennie Shemwell and Edward McLean.

The raid was planned and the police went about quietly and the negroes were caught like rats in a trap. The first visit was made at 1 o'clock this morning by Patrolman Clark and Bryant and five men and women were arrested and hauled to police headquarters in the patrol wagon. The patrol wagon and Driver Thad Terrell were kept on the move from then until about daylight. The patrolman made their way back to the vicinity of Tenth street and Kentucky avenue, and at 3 o'clock corraled two more, and at 4 o'clock they arrested the remaining six. This assortment in the city jail has about 131 that section. Some heard of the raid and made their escapes.

Since the street was rid of white characters it has become infested with negroes, and swarms with robbers and thieves. Chief Collins said this morning he intends to break up the resorts, as several robberies have taken place in that vicinity in the past few weeks.

Orville Wright Breaks Record. TRAVELLED 50 MILES IN 4 HOURS, 12 MINUTES, 40 SECONDS.

Performance More Than Equals Endurance Test Demanded by U. S. Government.

PRESIDENT TAFT WITNESSED.

Washington, July 28.—The world's aeroplane record for two men for both time and distance was broken last evening, in a flight of one hour, 12 minutes and 40 seconds, upwards of 50 miles and at a speed averaging 40 miles per hour, by Orville Wright at Fort Meyer, with Lieut. Frank P. Lahm, of the army signal corps, as a passenger. The former record was made last year by his brother Wilbur at Le Mans, France, with Professor Palmyre, of the French Institute, as a passenger. That flight was one hour, five minutes and thirty-one seconds. Wilbur was an eager spectator of his brother's flight today.

The cheering which heralded the setting of a new mark in the conquest of the air was led by President Taft in person, who had sat, an intensely interested spectator, throughout the flight, and who lauded at its conclusion upon personally congratulating the brothers upon their success.

The flight completed the first of the two crucial tests of their machine imposed upon them by the government—the so-called "endurance test," which required one hour continuously in the air with one passenger.

Orville did nearly fifteen minutes better than that, and could have kept on indefinitely—three and a half, the limit imposed by the gasoline capacity of the supply tank.

The other test, speed, will be completed with tomorrow, the weather permitting.

Last Attempt Recalled. Polignac was added to the achievement by the realization by everybody present upon Orville's last attempt to navigate the air with a passenger, Lieut. Seidrege was killed and he himself terribly injured. Miss Katherine Wright, who nursed him through the period of his recovery from that disaster, anxiously watched him from the doorway of the shed where the aeroplane is kept and when he returned unharmed from the flight, gripped him eagerly by the arm and nestled her face against his breast, and said: "Truly for you, brother, it was beautiful."

President Taft shook hands with both the brothers, congratulated Orville upon his success, and declared it a great exhibition. "You beat the world's record," remarked the president.

"Yes, sir," replied Orville, evidently embarrassed. "I beat my brother's record."

The president and everybody in the crowd joined in the laughter at this reply.

President Congratulates. "I congratulate both of you and thank you for the privilege of witnessing such a flight," added the president, and again shaking hands with the brothers, he entered his automobile amidst cheers.

At 6 o'clock the machine was trundled to the starting derrick and prepared for the flight. At 6:30 Lahm boarded the machine. Five minutes later Orville took his seat, and at 6:35:40 the aeroplane soared gracefully into the air, about sixty feet. Round and round she went, 71 times about the great drill grounds, sometimes in shorter circles, but usually out at the edges of the full boundary, at a height varying but slightly.

As the hour drew in its close, the excitement became intense. A thousand watches were out and eagerly scanned. At the conclusion of the twentieth turn, a great shout went up; automobile horns were tooted in a deafening chorus, and hand clapping and cheers, and the waving of hats and handkerchiefs told the men in the flying craft that their task was accomplished. Wilbur Wright ran out beneath them and waved his handkerchief. The crowd expected Orville to come down, but he kept on. He was after his brother's hands.

Officers Chief Wilbur. Wilbur returned to the starting derrick, where army officers were gathered and they began to chaff him about his record, now in peril. With a broad grin of appreciation he now kept count of the minutes which remained of his own record, and then he said: "On the next turn he has got me. When he comes by, let's give him a cheer."

Wilbur waited until the machine was almost overhead, then rushed ahead of it waving his hat and dancing gleefully.

BRUNER IN NEW STATE CAPITOL

SECRETARY OF STATE FIRST TO VACATE THE OLD BUILDING.

Commissioner Hankin to Make Speech to Tobacco Men At New Castle.

HE HAS A HANDSOME SUITE

Frankfort, Ky., July 28.—Secretary of State Bruner stole a march on the other state officials, and moved bag and baggage into the new capitol across the river. Jackson Morris, assistant secretary of state, who really is more an assistant to the governor, is the only member of Dr. Bruner's department left in the old building, and he will hold down his old desk until the other state officials migrate to south Frankfort along about the middle of September.

Several months ago Dr. Bruner determined to beat the other state officials to it, when it came to getting into the new capitol. To this end he hustled the contractors along, and recently has personally supervised the fitting up and arranging of his offices.

Has Handsome Offices.

He now occupies a handsome private office in the northeast corner of the building. It is a light, spacious chamber, fitted up in a color scheme of olive green, with velvet wall hangings and Axminster carpet to match.

His new furniture has not yet arrived, and for the present he and his assistants will use the old desks, and chairs, which have been taken from the old offices.

Next to Dr. Bruner's private office is a large clerk's office, which will be known as the corporation department. It has a flight of stairs leading to a commodious file room in the basement of the building, and its walls are also lined with metal file and record cases corresponding with the mahogany trimmings of the room.

Office for Assistant.

Adjoining the clerk's room is a private office, which will be occupied by the assistant secretary of state. With the exception of the connection of the electric light fixtures, the offices are practically ready. The lights are counted as an essential by Dr. Bruner, however, for he does a great deal of work at night.

Members of the state capitol commission now confidently expect that the dedication date for the new capitol will be set for about September 15. They have been urging the miscellaneous contractors to rush all uncompleted work, and a visit to the building justifies the belief that there will be no further delay in moving in.

The first car load of furniture is expected to arrive this week, and with this installed and the connecting of the lighting and heating plants, which is dependent upon the completion of the power house, the building will be ready for occupancy.

As soon as the state departments take possession of the building the capitol commission will have a few jobs to hand out, and some of them are considered good ones. The last general assembly appropriated some $16,000 annually as a maintenance fund for the new capitol, out of which will be paid the salaries of a capitol superintendent, an assistant, engineer, elevator men, porters, cleaners and gardeners.

Recently the commission elected George A. Lewis, custodian of public buildings, to succeed the late Capt. W. M. Lyon. His salary is $1,200 a year.

The superintendent of the new capitol will receive $1,500, and whether Mr. Lewis will be given this place has not yet been determined. His present position will be abolished with the occupancy of the new capitol.

State of Kentucky: Gentlemen:—submit to you herewith, as required by law, my biennial report as auditor of public accounts for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1898, and June 30, 1899. on hand today in this office not a dollar of unclaimed claims. Not a single warrant is today outstanding that can be found, and enough money and other valuable assets in the sinking fund to more than pay the $1,000,000 of bonded indebtedness of this state. Respectfully submitted, Samuel H. Stone, Auditor, Public Accounts.

Now how does that statement, unrefuted and unrefuted, compare with the statement made by the editor of the State Journal referred to above? We beg pardon for going in to ancient history, but we think we are justified in making a few comparisons.

During the eight years of administration of Governor Brown and Bradley, the auditors' reports show there was paid into the state treasury from all sources, $34,861,107. At the expiration of Governor Bradley's administration, according to Auditor Stone's report, there was enough money to pay all the debts against the state.

During the eight years of Governor Beckham's administration there was paid into the state treasury from all sources, $41,559,315. In other words, during the eight years of the last Democratic administration the taxpayers of this state went down into their pockets to the extent of nearly seven million of dollars, more money than they had been called upon to give up in the eight years previous to that.

Where It Went.

One million only of this amount was paid on the new capitol. To bring the matter a little closer home, during the four years of Governor Bradley's administration from all sources $18,645,672. During the last four years of Governor Beckham's administration there was paid into the state treasury from all sources, $22,151,557, and this does not include the $1,323,000 secured from the federal government, which, it was asserted, would build the new capitol.

The point we wish to make is this: The members of the former administration and their friends, are pointing with great pride to the record they made in taking care of the state finances. But they have neglected to point out that in order to do this they called upon the taxpayers of the state for an average of nearly a million dollars a year more than any of their predecessors had ever used.

Many of the Democratic journals have said so often that the last administration left in the treasury over $1,000,000 without any outstanding debts, that they are actually beginning to believe the truth of this statement. It is true that there was in the treasury when the present administration took charge of the state affairs, about $1,000,000, but it is not true that all outstanding claims had been paid. There were due on unpaid claims amounting to over $700,000, and these fell due before the close of the month with additional claims of over $500,000.

So that from the sixth day of January when the Republicans took charge to the end of the month there was paid in round numbers $1,230,000, all of which was either unpaid bills left over from the former administration, or bills falling due in that month.

To estimate the state's financial condition at the end of any calendar year is very much like figuring out how much a man is worth if he has a pocket full of money and owes everybody. Practically all of the funds are paid into the treasury by the sheriffs during the closing days of the year, so that there is or should be always a substantial balance on hand at the close of the calendar year.

The balance on hand at the close of last year was $1,200,000. There will be practically the same amount of money in the treasury at the close of the present year. Estimate of the conditions of the state finances should always be made at the close of the fiscal year, and an examination of the auditor's reports will show that for many years back there has been an actual deficit in the general expenditure fund, and, owing to the large appropriations of the last general assembly, that deficit in the very nature of things cannot be reduced.

The trouble is that the general expenses of the state government have been growing very rapidly for many years, while the apportionment of the state's funds have remained the same. Our predecessors frequently resorted to the practice of borrowing from the sinking fund or the school fund to cover up these fiscal year deficits. In the year 1907 they borrowed half a million dollars from the sinking fund to cover a deficit which totaled $476,000. This trouble can easily be remedied if the next legislature will re-appportion these various funds, and the matter will be called to their attention.

Again it has been asserted many times that the Democrats built the new capitol. The facts are that they paid only a little over one million dollars on this building, while the appropriations that have been made for its completion now aggregate over $1,700,000. Mark the prediction: It will require $2,000,000 to complete this building. And mark this further prediction: The building will be completed by the present administration, all debts paid and a substantial balance will be left in the treasury without an increase in taxes. The present administration has paid $600,000 of the new appropriation of the last general assembly, and the present deficit is now but little over half that amount.

Bad County Officials.

The Kentucky State Journal also recently printed, without comment, an editorial from the Stanford Inter-ior Journal, which, among other things, said:

"Besides the useless expenditure of $100,000 for soldiers to put down the night riders, there have been other leaks in the treasury not known to Democratic rule. We would like to hear Auditor James explain the quite remarkable fact that in the only two Republican administrations that have discredited the state, the treasury has suspended payment and its warrants gone below par."

Perhaps the editor of the Interior Journal is too young to remember that the suspension of payment was made and state warrants went below par under Governor Brown's administration, and that the Bradley administration found the state overwhelmingly in debt and the treasury practically empty.

As to his reference to the useless expenditure of money paid for the suppression of night riders, we would like to ask him what he would have done had he been governor of this state during this reign of terror. We do not believe that any common-sense since the establishment of this government was ever called upon to witness such disgraceful scenes. Men and women cruelly beaten and frequently murdered, their homes and their property destroyed by a gang of murderous scoundrels, property to the extent of millions of dollars destroyed by fire, reputable citizens driven from home into other states.

All done in this proud commonwealth whose motto is "United we stand, divided we fall." And yet, Democratic editors, not all of them, however, we are thankful to say, will speak of the useless expenditure of money to suppress such damnable outrages. The howl that would have gone up from these same Democratic journals if Governor Willson had made no attempt to suppress night riding would have been something terrible to hear.

Perhaps the night riding heritage handed down by the last administration, could have been suppressed long before it was and with much less expense, had these same Democratic editors and their allies, the Democratic officials or committees where these outrages occurred, united with Governor Willson in his efforts to stamp out this lawlessness. He it said to the shame of the county officials of the sections where the night riders committed their depredations, that there were comparatively a few instances where the local officials made any effort to restore order and we might add parenthetically that those outrages occurred principally in the Gibraltar of the proud Democracy."

We suppose when the Interior Journal's editor says there have been "other leaks" in the treasury not known under Democratic rule, he refers to the money that has leaked in there, having been recovered from the various dishonest officials that have held sway for so many years. We defy him to point to a single dollar that has been misappropriated by the present administration, and we can point with pride to many thousands of dollars that have been recovered to the treasury through the

The Public Schools.
It is more than likely that the Democratic papers will say in reply to this article—"Look what our administration did for the public schools." It is not the purpose of the writer to pluck a single laurel from the brow of any man, and we mean to give credit where credit is due. The preceding administration did well by the public schools of this commonwealth, but we are not willing to admit that they did better or even as well as this administration has done, and here are the figures to demonstrate that when it comes to speaking of educational matters this administration has a right to get "cheery" also. During the eight years of Beckham's administration the per capita increased from $2.15 to $3.40, an average increase of nearly 12 cents per pupil. During the present administration the per capita has increased from $3.40 to $4, an average annual increase of thirty cents per pupil. The average per capita for the eight years was $2.72; for the two years of this administration the average was $3.80. During those eight years the average annual payments for public school purposes were $2,142,000 for the first two years of the Republican administration the average payments were $2,820,000. How is this for "Republican mismanagement?" The Kentucky Republican challenges, dares and dares any man or set of men, any paper or set of papers to point out a single misstatement of facts or misuse of figures in the foregoing.

A Poisonous Drug Still Freely Used.

Many people are brought up to believe that coffee is a necessity of life, and the strong hold that the drug has on the system makes it hard to loosen its grip even when one realizes its injurious effects.

A lady in Baraboo writes: "I had used coffee for years; it seemed one of the necessities of life. A few months ago my health, which had been slowly failing, became more impaired, and I knew that unless relief came from some source, I would soon be a physical wreck."

"I was weak and nervous, had sick headaches, no ambition and felt tired of life. My husband was also losing his health. He was troubled so much with indigestion that at times he could eat only a few mouthfuls of dry bread."

"We concluded that coffee was slowly poisoning us, and stopped it and used hot water. We felt somewhat better, but it wasn't satisfactory."

"Finally, we saw Postum advertised, and bought a package. I followed directions for making carefully, allowing it to boil twenty minutes after it came to the boiling point, and added cream, which turned it to the loveliest rich-looking and tasting drink I ever saw served at any table, and we have used Postum ever since."

"I gained five pounds in weight in as many weeks, and now feel well and strong in every respect. My headaches have gone, and I am a new woman. My husband's indigestion has left him, and he can now eat anything. 'There's a Reason.'"

CUBAN LOTTERY IN FULL BLAST

MILLIONS TO BE SPENT BY THE REPUBLIC ON SCHEME.

Inmates of Orphan Asylum Will Draw Numbers for the Prizes.

LITTLE BROWN MEN HAVE FUN

Washington, July 28. (United Press)—The day for the first drawing in the Cuban lottery is near. Despite the beneficent and paternal teachings of Governor Macdon and the provincial government, despite the highly moral precepts and example of Uncle Samuel, the government of free and independent Cuba is going to revive old times by having the biggest and grandest game of chance ever jolled off.

They have directed the treasurer of the island to look after the business. They have appointed a director general who must answer to the president and the national senate. They have agreed that the tickets shall range in price from one dollar to twenty-five cents. Four times a year the drawings will take place, and seventy per cent of the receipts are to go for prizes. The act provides that two transparent globes, exposed in an open place to which the public shall have access, shall contain balls representing the tickets and prizes. By an automatic device these balls will fall one by one from the globes alternately. Children from the Foundlings' Home and the National Orphan Asylum will gather the balls as they fall and will successively read off a number and a prize. To prevent these diminutive charges from practicing any skulduggery, it is stipulated that no child can take part in more than one drawing in a period of three months.

A board of seven members made up of influential citizens of undoubted integrity will supervise the drawings. It's all elaborately arranged. Anyone who sells foreign lottery tickets on the island will be fined and perhaps imprisoned. Anyone who starts a little private lottery will suffer the same fate. Sales agencies will be established all over the island. Agents will be required to give bond and will be allowed a commission of three per cent on all tickets sold by them. These agents may appoint peddlers or vendors. This is where the scheme is unlike that which prevailed in the colonial period of bloody memory. Cuba is a free and enlightened country, and nowadays it is different. The hawkers and vendors will not be allowed to shout their wares. Under the colonial regime they made a dreadful noise in the streets, but modernized Cuba cannot stand for that sort of thing. The lottery business must be conducted quietly and sedately.

The government of Cuba believes that there is money in the lottery. It expects to make two millions a year net, an estimate based on the old colonial lottery. It will probably be larger, as the former lottery belonged to a period which was still under the shadow of the middle ages when they did things badly. Then, too, there wasn't much money lying around loose those days. Now the people have plenty to spend for such laudable enterprises, to make themselves richer and help keep the ship of state afloat.

If the net proceeds to the government should reach the three million mark, it would mean that the people would be spending about $10,000,000 annually to support this patriotic enterprise. The ticket vendors who might otherwise be obliged to hock sugar cane will have a respectable occupation. Señor Morúa Delgado will have a fat berth. Clerks and printers will be employed getting out prospectuses and tickets. And even the little children of the Foundlings' Home and the Orphan Asylum will have a grand festa every three months when they pick up the little balls that roll out of the big glass globes.

A Horrible Hold-Up.
"About ten years ago my brother was 'held up' in his work health and happiness by what was believed to be hopeless Consumption," writes W. R. Lipscomb, of Washington, N. C. "He took all kinds of remedies and treatment from several doctors, but found no help till he used Dr. King's New Discovery and was wholly cured by six bottles. He is a well man today." It's quick to relieve and the surest cure for weak or sore lungs, Hemorrhages, Coughs, and Colds, Bronchitis, LaGrippe, Asthma and all Bronchial affections. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. THREE MORE DAYS IN THIS WEEK TO GET BONUS VOTES

The Big Contest is Becoming Lively and Interesting to Candidates.

Do Not Let a Day Pass With Out Making Effort.

HARD WORK WILL COUNT NOW

Miss Mattle Evans, of Harlow, low, won the handsome gold watch given away by the Contest Department to the one turning in the most money last week. Miss Evans was in the city this morning, at which time the watch was presented to her, and she was highly delighted with same.

Just three more days this week in which to get extra votes. Candidates should not lose a moment, as it is imperative that you use all the time that is left. Do not let the day go by without having accomplished something. Next week there will be no bonus offered, and if you would be wise you will grasp this golden opportunity now.

The scores are rapidly climbing up, and contestants are becoming very enthusiastic indeed. Pink slips are being sent in and the voting from this on will be very lively. The winners are coming to the front. If you would be among them, there must be no delays, no putting off, simply hard work and the determination to make what time is left COUNT.

August 7 will soon be here, and when the winners are announced, will you be among them? You can be if you want to be.

COULD NOT MOVE HER.

Daughter Had to Be Stern With Her Parents.

"I cannot permit it!" The young American daughter regarded her parents sternly, and with a proper mixture of concern.

"I am very sorry," she said, "that it is necessary for me to be strict with you, but there is too evident a disposition on your part to take advantage of your opportunities. Why, papa, it was only last week that you and mamma would have sneaked off to see Salome, if I hadn't stopped you."

"Don't you think I ought to have some pleasure?" said her papa meekly.

"Nothing that will injure you. Only such advanced minds as mine can stand that sort of thing. Besides, you are both prone to sensationalism. You bring comic supplements into the house regardless of my wishes. Mamma, here, I know, has a secret longing for Sinner Glyn's works. How can you expect me to keep you away from all these evil influences when you deliberately dis-obey me?"

"But you indulge in them your self," replied her mother with a hurt expression.

"Now, isn't that just such an argument as I might have expected that you would use? Of course I indulge in them myself. I am obliged to keep abreast of the times. Besides, these things do me no harm. I understand their significance. I am able to assimilate them properly. Now, my dear parents, I trust I shall not have to speak to you again about such an important matter."

But her dear papa was still not satisfied.

"You see, dear," he said, "don't you really think it is a little unfair? For when I was your age things were different from what they are now. We weren't allowed to do the things then, and now it cuts us off altogether."

But the daughter was obdurate.

"Why, she replied, 'should you blame me merely because since your time the world has advanced? Run along, like good agents, and play with these nature blocks, while I get ready to prepare my paper on the sex question for the next meeting of the civics club.'—Life.

Ink for Marking Cases.

Ink for marking cases is prepared by dissolving ten parts of extract of logwood in 500 parts of water, adding two parts of yellow chromate of potassium. The formation of the sediment does not harm, as it is only necessary to stir it up with the marking brush. When necessary water may be added. Another ink is obtained by dissolving some gum damar in oil of turpentine, which is quickly effected by the application of a little heat. In this week varnish a black color is added, which must be very finely ground. After use the oil of turpentine is volatilized and the gum secures the color to the wood. This marking ink should be kept in well closed bottles, and will then remain good for years. If the color has become too thick, it can be reduced with oil of turpentine. Philadelphia Record.

ALCOHOL IS A PRESERVATIVE.

Alcohol is recognized the world over as the proper, most efficient and wholesome preserver of medicinal compounds, and while some journals try to alarm the world by the cry that patent "medicines" contain more alcohol than beer," they neglect to state that proprietary medicines are taken in doses from a teaspoonful to a tablespoonful, while beer is a beverage that is consumed in quantities from a glass to several quarts a day.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound contains only 18 per cent alcohol, simply enough to preserve the roots and herbs from which it is made, and may be relied upon by every woman in the land as a reliable, honest and sure remedy for the ills peculiar to her sex.

THE MODERN WAY

Your Dinner

To be appetizing and delicious should be cooked with gas.

Any degree of heat—for broiling or boiling, baking or frying, easily and immediately secured, and as many different degrees at the same time as there are burners on your range. Moreover, it's economical, too, because they're in use only when and as wanted.

Washboilers Make Good Drums, Says Anty Drudge.

Bobbie—"See my drum?" (Bang! Bang! Bang!) Mother—Bobbie, stop that instantly. You'll pound a hole in that washboard and then how can I wash your dirty clothes?"

Anty Drudge—"Just let him pound it all he wants to. That's all a washboard is good for. Get some Fels-Naptha soap and you can wash his clothes and all the others easier, quicker and better in cold or lukewarm water, without boiling."

Light summer clothes are more easily damaged than winter fabrics. That is good and sufficient reason why they should be washed with Fels-Naptha in cold or lukewarm water.

In washing with Fels-Naptha there is no boiling or cooking to weaken the delicate fibres, no hard-rubbing to fray them, no injurious chemicals to eat holes in them.

But there are other reasons. It is far easier on the woman who does the washing. There is no hard-rubbing, no blistering fire, no scalding suds to steam the face and redden the hands.

Fels-Naptha soap does its work best in cold or lukewarm water, dissolving the dirt so it can be washed away with a simple rinsing. Sounds easy and comfortable, doesn't it? And it is just as easy and comfortable as it sounds if you use Fels-Naptha the Fels-Naptha way.
